IV. 25th Annual Conference

- Format - Highly likely that the 2021 conference will be virtual.
 - Various Platforms
 - Whova—Platform used for livestreaming, and pre-recording pieces.

- 0-500 attendees: $1399/event; 500-1500: $2,099/event
 - Slack—Functional for offline chatting with speakers.
 - Free for limited use. (2nd order of magnitude for a platform).
 - Can archive up to 10,000 messages.
 - Topics—
 - 'Focus on 2011'
 - 'Extreme Weather Symposium'
 - If participants contribute a small fee/subscription (ex. $20-30 for professionals; $10-20 for students), they could interact with Whova.
 - Potentially more attendance from NWS employees.
- Continue to sign up for conference teams and chairs: LINK:

- Registration | Clair Womack – Responsible for the registration of attendees for the Annual Conference. Members of the registration team sign up to work shifts at the registration table during the conference. For a virtual conference, a platform such as Whova would automatically register attendees.
- Agenda | Bill Gallus – Great way to interact with invited speakers. Start brainstorming ideas on the type of presentations and speakers to invite. Looking for topics, session names, ideas of speakers, and 2011 Historical Events. Poll members for conference length and focus.
- Travel | Kristy Carter – if conference is virtual, need for travel would be reduced or significantly diminished.
- Promotions | Mike Cox – Hit social media hard for this year's conference.
- Electronics | Jon Thielen – Working through and seeking out multiple platforms for streaming the conference: Whova, Slack, CrowdCast to name a few.
- Scholarship | Mike Fowle – Looking for donations or seek fundraisers aimed toward raising money to the scholarships.
- Radar Workshop | Rod Donovan – Case from last previous year selected. Waiting to see if Daryl can get into the office. Feasible to get an online version of the radar workshop if conference is virtual. May select a more intense/severe event for the 25th.
- Sessions | Kyle Hugeback – Looking to expand tape swap, have more presentations.
- Hotel | Date in March 2021 is still saved at the Marriot (in case of a miracle). Would have to renew the following year.
